Sail in Canvas Boat From Homeland to Punta Gorda

Harold Porterfield of Tampa accompanied by his two cousins, Dan Bivins and Wilbur Bell, had a most delightful and novel experience last week when they sailed down Peace creek from Homeland to Punta Gorda in a canvas boat made by Harold Porterfield. The frame work was of cedar covered with stiff canvas and they made the trip without trouble, although they encountered the storm at Punta Gorda and did not venture far into the bay. They returned home Saturday night and talk entertainingly of their experience.—Bartow Courier-Information.

Mrs. C. H. Chadwick and little daughter, Maxine, returned Monday, after a few days visit in Tampa, guests of Mrs. A. O. Turner and Mrs. R. A. Williams.

EVERY HOME NEEDS A FAITHFUL COUGH AND COLD REMEDY

When seasons change and colds appear—when you first detect a cold after sitting next to one who has sneezed, then it is that a tried and tested remedy should be faithfully used. "I never wrote a testimonial before, but I know positively that for myself and family, Dr. King's New Discovery is the best cough remedy we ever used and we have tried them all." 50c and $1.00. Again the cow begins to look expectantly at the straw hat.

Every one knows a lot of fool things one would do if one had the money.

It is easy to convince yourself that your troubles are greater than those of other people.

Galveston dug itself in behind its sea wall and repulsed every charge of the big wet gulf.

Still it would be more thrilling to be on a torpedoed Arabia than on a somersaulting Eastland.

Have you ever noticed how much larger your troubles appear at night than during the day.

There are still more babies and some baby bonds that need the consideration of the earnest citizen.

If a married man is wise he never speaks of his good old bachelor days in the presence of his wife.

One scientist ventures the assertion that man is growing smaller.

Just about the time you get yourself broke to a certain diet the neighbors bring in things that you have no business eating.

The hardest part of a vacation is getting rested up afterwards while trying to catch up with the work neglected during your absence.

There are very few things that are really very hard to do. The hard part is screwing up your courage to the point of tackling them.

An elector will vote for a man for public office that he would not allow in his own home overnight for fear he would steal the silverware.

Because a man allows a maiden to cuddle in his lap and rest her head confidently upon his shoulder, it is not taken for granted that he intends marrying her. If all maidens got married every time they cuddled and nestled there wouldn't be enough men to go around.

When a busy man has been summoned as a juror and is making the best of a poor situation by trying to believe that he is performing his patriotic duty (and is getting about one-fifth of what his time is worth) he can hardly be blamed for wanting to shoot the pettifogging lawyer who wastes a half a day wrangling over a jury for a case that hasn't any more business in court than a blind man has in a society woman's boudoir.
